

CHEMICAL AND BIOLOGICAL HEALTH SCIENCES (SCBS)

ED 168

SUPPORT INSTITUTION: Université Montpellier 2

CO-AUTHORIZED INSTITUTION(S): Université Montpellier 1

SCIENTIFIC INTEREST

- The Doctoral Program in Chemical and Biological Health Sciences brings together all of the research potential in the Languedoc-Roussillon region in the areas of health chemistry and biology, from drug chemistry to clinical research through the support of the excellent laboratories and institutes in the areas of genetics, development, biomolecules, cell biology and physiology
- Within this broad topic of « health » this program can be compared to other regional university centres in the number and the quality of the Thesis being produced and breakthroughs achieved. It also receives the support of the Genopole of Montpellier Languedoc-Roussillon
- It should be pointed out that a good number of research themes of the Doctoral Program have contributed to the scientific development and establishment of the Qu@limes et Orpheme Regional competence centres. The CBS-2 Doctoral program is accredited by the Universities of Montpellier 1, 2, I and II and has the following goals:
 - To expand fundamental biological knowledge
 - To promote its applications to the health field, particularly medication, biotechnology and biotherapies.
